- Neighborhood Market Intelligence for Exit & Expansion — Detailed market data on North Raleigh neighborhoods within their price range and hold profile—where similar builds are

Hi [Investor Name]—I noticed you've assembled three properties on Caddis Boulevard, all completed and rented in early 2025. That's a sharp execution on a micro-neighborhood. I work with active developers in North Raleigh and wanted to connect because I track off-market opportunities and motivated sellers in your target corridors—thought it might be useful to be in conversation as you look at your next move.

Strategic Suggestions

- Map the investor's visible street clustering: Create a visual showing all three Caddis properties, their lot configurations, and adjacent parcels.
- Track Raleigh municipal permit data weekly for the North Raleigh corridor. Flag any new development, demolition, or rehab permits in the $280K-$320K
- Build a 'Caddis Boulevard+ Comparable Exits' brief showing how similar new construction rentals in adjacent North Raleigh neighborhoods performed on

Conversation Starters

- I saw you closed all three Caddis properties on the same day in January. Are you looking at Caddis as a completed
- With the rental income you're generating there (~$2,050/unit), what's your thesis on the 12-month hold—are you banking
- Do you have a preferred contractor or development partner for your next project, or would introductions to North
