Hi Jonathan and Kelly—I've been following the development activity in your Stonegate and Harps Mill portfolio. I noticed you've pulled 37 permits across those three properties and recently closed on the $710K acquisition on Stonegate in July. That's a deliberate neighborhood buildout, and I work with developers executing exactly that kind of focused strategy. I wanted to reach out because I have early access to off-market opportunities in those corridors that might fit your timeline.

Strategic Suggestions

- Research recent permit filings in Raleigh for their target corridors (Stonegate Dr, Harps Mill Woods Run, Neuse Farm Dr area). Understand what types
- Map their portfolio for land assembly gaps. With 4 properties clustered geographically, identify adjacent parcels or properties that, if acquired,
- Connect them with a commercial real estate agent or development broker who specializes in land assembly in their Raleigh market. They may be moving

Conversation Starters
